

Editorial

I seem to be able to move in my living room again! Panto has moved out but I'm sure it will only be for a short time.

Work has started in the garden, seeds are already germinating in full force and equally so are the weeds. So begins the battle for summer!

Thomas has completed his after-school Robotics workshop which involved coding mini robots to do all manner of things, he was so excited and would explain it all thoroughly but all Mummy could do was smile and nod as I am not technically minded at all.

Hazel and Brian Simmons

Email: magazine@liphookmethodist.org

Copy date for the next issue Sunday 31st May

Dates for the Diary

Mondays 1.30pm - 4pm Hobbies Group

April

Thurs 16th 2:30pm Bible Study

Sat 18th 10-1pm Table Top Sale

Tues 21st 2pm Tea and Chat

May

Sun 10th 11:30 Picnic on the Village Green

Tues 19th 2pm Tea and Chat

Thurs 21st 2:30pm Bible Study